PURPOSE OF EXAM

BMC Helix Platform helps you to build your own applications with the help of different designer consoles, deploy them for the end users of these applications, and manage or configure them. BMC Helix Innovation Studio is a graphical user interface used to develop and tailor Digital Service applications or libraries. You can use the designer tabs in BMC Helix Innovation Studio to create views, records, and business logic for an application or a library.

To ensure development and deployment of codeless applications in BMC Helix Innovation Studio is performed to best practice standards, BMC Software maintains a technical certification program.

The BMC Certified Associate for Helix Platform Certification Exam will validate the technical competencies needed to successfully develop and deploy the codeless applications in BMC Helix Innovation Studio.

Skills Tested

Participants will be tested on their knowledge of the following:

» Describe the codeless application development process in BMC Helix Innovation Studio
» Create record definitions, inherit the records, and create audit records
» Create views and various components for the views
» Build business logic using the processes and the rules
» Explore Permissions and Security Labels for fields and related records
» Explore various options for codeless application deployment
» Create different export packages for the codeless applications
» Explain the integration process with REST services

For detailed information around these topics, refer to the course abstract(s) for the recommended course(s).
