

BMC Education Subscription – Company- Wide Training

Optimize enablement and secure continued learning for the whole company around BMC solutions

Overview

Even the best technical solution won't provide the planned business benefits if employees who are responsible for deployment, roll out, management, and usage of a solution. They are not trained to work efficiently based on best practices.

There are several reasons why training is not effective:

- Limited budgets restrict training to a few individuals
- Training is confined to rollout, excluding new or changing roles
- Rigid plans make training hard to fit into daily work
- One-time training fails to keep pace with product updates

BMC Approach

BMC Education Subscription helps customers accelerate time to value from their BMC solutions by enabling faster onboarding and stronger adoption across the full solution lifecycle.

From Day 1, every end user or designated administrator receives a key that unlocks unlimited access to enablement resources, best practices, and self-paced learning in 15- to 50-minute modules—available 24/7. As BMC solutions evolve, subscription content is continuously updated—so your teams stay current without additional fees.
