About the Product:

BMC Compuware Abend-AID is a failure resolution and fault management solution that enables developers to reduce the tedious and time-consuming task of manually cross-referencing pages of recorded application memory information with pages of application code to understand why an application failure occurred.

Recommended for: System and Application Programmers

Training applicable to product versions: BMC Compuware Abend-AID 12.04, 16.05, and 17.02
